'Whirly Bird' In Appomattox

The "Whirly Bird" helicopter (above) came down out of the sky last week and landed on the grounds at Appomattox Intermediate School. Pilot is Buddy Knox, Charlotte, N.C. of the Bar-Fly Corporation here to spray chemicals on hardwood growth, brush and pine plantations under the direction of the Va. Division of Forestry cooperating with landowners. While here the 'copter sprayed a solution mixed with special chemicals to thicken the spray in order to prevent "drift". An added bonus: Pre-schoolers (153 of them) enrolled in the summer program at Appomattox Primary School had an opportunity to meet the pilot, to talk with county forester Warren Taylor (not shown) and to find out more about the Bar-Fly Corp. and its important business of helping with tree production. By the way, the subject is quite pertinent: the first graders' 2nd reading book in the coming school year will be "Helicopters and Gingerbread". The helicopter visit (plus a "party" with special refreshments) were highlights of the closing of the summer school last Friday.

'Little George' Has A Long Road Ahead

Little George Morgan really has a long road ahead of him and also a lot of miles to travel the same road.

George had a kidney transplant on July 21st at the University of Virginia Hospital in Charlottesville, but his little body rejected the kidney. When he is well enough to come back home, George will have to go on the artificial kidney machine at the University Hospital –not twice – but three times a week. Little George was on such a strict diet that he was not growing enough.

In the future, Little George Morgan will have to travel 700 miles a week, to and from Charlottesville, in order to be on the vitally needed kidney machine. The approximate cost of his treatment will be $456.00 each week. Anyone interested in donating money or providing transportation for him is asked to contact George or Gloria Morgan, Route 2, Box 14, Appomattox, Virginia.

Possibly in six months or a year, George may be physically able to try for another transplant, but until that time, he will have to have the necessary treatment three times a week just to stay alive. Anything the citizens of Appomattox County, or surrounding counties, can do to help George and his family will be greatly appreciated.

AREA BOYS AND GIRLS ATTENDING CAMP

Boys and girls from Appomattox County and from Amherst County are attending 4-H Camp at Holiday Lake this week.

The 4-H campers checked in at the camp-site on Sunday, August 1st and will be there until August 6th.

A complete program including swimming, nature study, canoeing, rifle range, archery, horsemanship and other things of interest are planned for the campers.

BONUS GIFTS AT BLOODMOBILE

Almost everyone in the community is represented when the Red Cross Bloodmobile comes to Appomattox. For instance, Poe Hardware lends fans for use in Liberty Baptist Church when the weather calls for it, as it did on Tues. for the first Bloodmobile visit of the new fiscal year. Cole's Dairy, as usual, gave milk and orange drink. Lewis McDearmon, also, as usual, gave a large quantity of ice. King's Supermarket, Inc. of Appomattox gave a loaf of King's Bread free to each blood donor and the Pepsi Cola Co. gave coupons worth a carton of Pepsi each donor plus providing free Pepsi for the canteen, both for donors, volunteer workers, Red Cross nurses, doctors and the many others who help make each Bloodmobile visit both a lifesaving operation and a community get-together that makes everyone participating feel a little better, possibly, about his community and the world, in general.

Delegates To Attend Democratic Convention

Six delegates and six alternates from Appomattox County have been elected to attend the Democratic State Convention to be held in Hampton on Sat., Aug. 14, for the purpose of selecting a Democratic nominee for the office of Lieutenant- Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, to fill the vacancy created by the death of J. Sergeant Reynolds.

The six delegates elected are Robert G. Stewart, W. M. Abbitt, Mrs. Calvin H. Robinson, Harry G. Lawson, C. T. Moses, Jr. and Harry T. Ferguson, Jr. Six alternates were also elected at the same time. They are Mrs. Crawford Davidson, Watkins M. Abbitt, Jr., Blaine Carter, Wilfred Rogers, J. E. "Gene" Richardson and Richard Williams, Jr.

The number of delegates to the convention was based on the number of Democratic votes cast in the General Election in 1969.

Your Ambulance Is Here

The new vehicle, shown above, custom-made for the Appomattox County Rescue Squad, has arrived and is ready to roll whenever the need arises. You probably have already seen the new 1971 SWAB Ambulance around town . . . the purpose of these trips is to train members of the Rescue Squad in the handling of this equipment so they will be qualified to give the prompt and efficient service to which you are entitled.

New Appomattox County Rescue Squad Vehicle Is Now In Service

Without the generous contributions and support of you, the good citizens of Appomattox County, this story would still be only a dream – not a reality. But due to the success of the Fund Drive last October, the Appomattox County Rescue Squad now has a new 1971 SWAB Ambulance to be used for the sole purpose of better serving the citizens of our County.

It has been many months for this custom-made vehicle to be completed, but at last, we have the new ambulance and it is now ready for service, fully equipped thanks to donations of various pieces of vitally needed equipment given from various civic clubs and businesses.

The 1971 SWAB is equipped with special oxygen and aspirator outlets so there will be no need to use the portable equipment after the patient is in the ambulance. The vehicle is completely air-conditioned for the comfort of the patients and also has several built-in cabinets for bandages, splints and other necessary equipment.

The new ambulance can easily transport four stretcher patients if necessary.

The members of the Appomattox County Rescue Squad wish to thank everyone for their help and assistance in making the purchase of this vehicle possible and to remind you that they are on call 24 hours a day trying to maintain their slogan, "OUR AIM IS TO SERVE AND SAVE LIVES".

Major Provisions Of 1972 Program For Wheat Announced

Major provisions of the 1972 program for wheat were announced by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin. The program provides for an acreage set - aside requirement equal to 85 percent of the farm domestic allotment – the maximum provided by law. It was further announced that the program will again allow the substitution of feed grain for wheat; that soybeans will be a substitute crop next year; and that barley will be included in the 1972 feed grain program. No limit on wheat acreage will be established for 1972.

"These changes in the 1972 programs," Secretary Hardin said, "give the farmer greater freedom to plant the commodities which will earn him the best possible income, without losing program benefits. By announcing these changes at this time, producers will have the information they need to make their planting plans for the 1972 crop."

There is no change in the previously announced 1972 domestic wheat allotment of 19.7 million acres or in the loan rate of $1.25 per bushel national average established for the 1971 crop. Farm-stored and warehousestored loans and purchases are available to producers who participate in the program.

The 1972 wheat set - aside percentage is based on preliminary estimates of acreage required for next year's production to meet U. S. domestic and export needs, USDA officials said. It compares with the 1971 set-aside rate of 75 percent of the farm's allotment.

Under the substitution provision, acreage devoted to feed grain or soybeans will be considered planted to wheat to prevent loss of allotment. Acreage devoted to wheat or soybeans will be considered planted to feed grain to prevent loss of the feed grain base. This will enable a producer to plant all or any combination of his acreage to wheat, feed grain or soybeans without loss of planting history or program benefits.

As in this year's program, there is not provision regarding excess wheat production in the 1972 program. However, excess wheat stored under prior acreage of the wheat certificate. Any remainder will be paid after Dec. 1, 1972.

The inclusion of barley in the 1972 feed grain program is the result of USDA estimates that feed grain supplies will be adequate in 1972 due to the improved supply of bright - resistant corn seed. The set - aside requirement for barley will be between 20 and 35 percent of the base. The exact set-aside percentage will be indicated when the 1972 feed grain program provision are announced.

Soybeans have been included as a substituted crop in 1972 in view of the supply outlook. This will also give the producer additional planting options.

Wheat producers in 1972 will receive 100 percent of parity on the production of their full domestic allotment, the same as this year. Face value of the certificates will be the difference between 100 percent of parity on July 1, 1972 and the national average wheat price received by farmers from July through Nov. 1972.

Under the current program, the farmer may plant as much wheat or any other non-quota crop as he wishes after he has met his acreage set-aside and conserving base requirements. Or, he can choose not to plant any wheat. Crops subject to quotas in 1972 will be peanuts, rice, tobacco, extra long staple cotton and sugarcane.

Producers are not required to plant wheat to obtain certificates.

However, failure to plant or be considered to have planted at least 90 percent of a farm's 1972 domestic allotment of either wheat, corn, grain sorghum, barley or soybeans

Train Va. Boys Says VEPCO

A Virginia Electric and Power Company senior vice president says the "sheepskin syndrome" is contributing to a shortage of technical skills needed for Virginia's continued industrial growth.

Eugene B. Crutchfield recently told the Virginia Apprenticeship Conference at Roanoke, "There are literally hundreds of scientists and engineers walking the streets of Virginia today, looking for jobs, when you and I have a hard time finding a good plumber or electrician."

If Virginia's industrial expansion is going to continue, Mr. Crutchfield said, both parents and students need proper counseling to channel more young people into construction trades.

Education beyond the high school level is essential, "but trying to cram everybody into a white collar isn't going to get the job done," Mr. Crutchfield said.

A good plumber with four years of training, he said, can make as much as a graduate engineer after four years of college.

"I am not suggesting we all set out to shatter the Great American Dream of an education for everyone," Mr. Crutchfield said. "I do suggest we begin asking the question, education for what?"

With a construction budget of about $370,000,000 this year, Vepco is the state's largest industrial builder, Mr. Crutchfield said, but the company is having to import about a fourth of the 4,000 skilled craftsmen it needs this quarter from outside the state.
